Riverview Health Physicians Welcomes Two New Physicians

Noblesville—Riverview Health is pleased to welcome two new physicians, Dr. Annette Fearnot and Dr. Nathan Parmer, to Riverview Health Physicians.

“We’re excited to expand our team with these two great physicians,” said Nikki Swiney, vice president of Ambulatory, Sports and Lab Services. “With their dedication to providing the best patient care in a personalized manner, our focus continues to be on improving the health and well-being of our growing community.”

Dr. Annette Fearnot is serving patients at Sheridan Family Medicine. She is certified by the American Board of Family Medicine, and specializes in preventative medicine and well care for women and children. She is trained in basic skin procedures, Nexplanon and IUD placement. Dr. Fearnot enjoys caring for patients during every stage of life. She earned her undergraduate degree from Indiana University and completed her medical degree from Boonshoft School of Medicine at Wright State University.

Dr. Parmer has joined Riverview Health Physicians Neuropsychology. He is certified by the American Board of Professional Psychology – Rehabilitation Psychology. He conducts neuropsychological evaluations, which help doctors diagnose conditions such as neurodegenerative disease and dementia. Dr. Parmer earned his doctorate degree from the Chicago School of Professional Psychology. He completed his pre-doctoral internship in the Defense and Veterans Brain Injury Center at Walter Reed Army Medical Center and his postdoctoral fellowship at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.
